

Why Do We Need BEMER?

- Diseases, chronic pain, or just feeling tired, sick, depressed and stressed, all start with a basic deficiency in the individual cells.
- All cells need the same 3 things –nutrients, oxygen and waste removal – in order to produce enough energy every day to run our body's systems, like the immune, lymphatic or cardiovascular system.
- These 3 things are delivered and exchanged only through the blood and the circulatory system, specifically through the microcirculation in our 75,000 mile long network of tiny vessels comprised of arterioles, capillaries and venules.
- If the cells do not receive what they need, then they cannot perform their functions; our health ultimately suffers and we age more quickly.
- 95% of diseases and health problems today all can be traced back to insufficient blood circulation.
- Conventional medicine methods increase blood circulation by only 5-10% plus they have undesirable, harmful side effects.
- BEMER is scientifically proven to help increase blood circulation up to 30% with no negative side effects. As a result, our body can work more efficiently to heal itself, and we feel more energetic.
- There is nothing else available today that can match BEMER's results.
